Background & Experience

Alan Miller is an accomplished sales leader and business development specialist with over 25 years of retirement planning and financial services experience. In utilizing his knowledge and expertise in wealth management planning, Alan has become a trusted consultant to financial advisors for an independent and effective way to solve risk management issues.

Before devoting his career to the independent insurance brokerage marketplace, Alan had the absolute pleasure of achieving great successes in working for top-tier financial planning firms, including Lincoln, MetLife Investors, and AXA-Equitable.

Originally from the Midwest, Alan strives to blend his work ethic with family, and all types of outdoor activities, especially golf. Alan resides in Centennial, Colorado with his wife, Karen, and is incredibly proud of the accomplishments of his three career-oriented children.
