

Nevertheless,
do not rejoice
because the spirits
are subject to you,
but rejoice because your names are written in heaven.

Sunday July 3, 2022

14th Sunday in Ordinary Time

In our gospel today, we see the drama of commissioning. Jesus challenged the seventy-two disciples to engage in a dangerous mission, he said: "I am sending you like lambs among wolves. Carry no money bag, no sack, no sandals. Into whatever house you enter, first say, 'Peace to this household.' Cure the sick and say to them, 'The kingdom of God is at hand for you.'"

At that time, the seventy-two disciples were at a decisive turning point in their lives. Jesus' words challenged them to pursue the proclamation of the kingdom over their personal interests, family, possessions and power. Jesus' radical call primed their hearts to take an attitude of openness and readiness to reach out to others in order to express to various cultures the marvels of the values and perspective of God's kingdom, such as: love, hope, compassion, faith, peace and justice.

And from that moment on – from generation to generation, emerged martyrs who shed their blood for the kingdom of God. Now, saints' pictures and names are decorating the corridors of our hearts, which, perhaps, influence us to become one like them in our world today.

Here and now, one of the seventy-two is YOU and me! We are called to perpetuate the mission of Jesus. Whatever be our situation and status in life – whether parents, teachers, doctors, nurses, catechists, maintenance workers, or ordinary persons in the street, we are being sent by Christ to be workers in his vineyard. It is erroneous to think that discipleship belongs exclusively to priests and nuns. By virtue of our baptism, we inherently share the mission of Christ. The way we live the gospel values in this age makes the kingdom of God ring in every one's heart.

For your own personal, group or family reflection this week, please consider these guide questions: "What do I consider to be my mission at home, in Church or at work this week? To WHOM do I need to bring the Good News of compassion, healing, forgiveness, love, justice and peace this week?" Name the person, then pray for her/him, and if you are ready, the grace and blessing of God will ultimately bring your hearts into a communion of reconciliation.

Happy Fourth of July! We have so much to be grateful for...especially the country we live in!

Diocesan Vocation Summit...

Aug 5th • 9:00am- 3:30pm • Kearney, NE

Bishop Hanefeldt has challenged our diocese to “Re-ignite a Culture of Vocations.” In response, we’ve created a comprehensive plan and will kickoff new efforts at a Vocation Summit. All in the diocese are invited, especially parish leaders and educators. Speakers include Fr. Michael Pratt of the Diocese of Tulsa and Sam Alzheimer from Vianney Vocations. They will focus on how to help young people see the beauty of Christian marriage, priesthood, and religious life. Participants will gain new enthusiasm, and receive new tools & resources for fostering vocations in your school and parish. Event is free and lunch is provided. Info and registration at gidiocese.org Catholic Daughters...Thank you to all who participated in the bus trip to the different churches. A fun time was had by all.

As Catholics we are all called to serve. Each of us has been given charisms otherwise known as gifts from the Holy Spirit to help build God's Church. Our charisms can only be used for good. We know that we are using them in the right ministry when we are filled with joy and we want to share stories about our charitable works. Discern how God is calling you to use your charisms. Say yes to what God is calling you to do and then do it! Share your joy and invite others to do the same.
