† Pastor's Letter †

Dear Beloved in Christ

2024 General Conference of the United Methodist Church began last Tuesday and you can find everything about it (including the link to the livestreams) here:

<https://www.cnumc.org/eventdetail/18329897?month=4&year=2024&day=1&display=m>.

Dates: Tuesday, April 23, 2024 to Friday, May 3, 2024

Place: Charlotte, North Carolina

Here are some reports of the General Conference from 4/23-4/29:

- Regionalization is approved: United Methodist delegates have overwhelmingly endorsed a constitutional amendment of 'regionalization' (votes 586-164) on Thursday April 25, 2024. Four regions (U.S., Africa, Europe and the Philippines) will become regional conferences with the same authority to adapt the Book of Discipline, the denominational policy book, for more missional effectiveness. This will allow each region to decide all their policies, especially over the role of LGBTQ people in the church through given rule-making autonomy. This needs to be approved by two-third votes at all the Annual Conferences of U.S. by the end of June this year.
- Revision of Social Principles is approved by the Legislative Session: "The United Methodist Church now proclaims its support "for the equal rights, liberties, and protections of all people, regardless of sexual orientation or gender identity" ... people should be treated with basic human dignity regardless of whether they are male, female, intersexual, transgender or nonbinary... All around the world, we're seeing people who are trans or nonbinary or who have a diversity in terms of their gender identity be persecuted, be discriminated against both legally and in practical terms," ... "This is a really crucial statement about the sacred worth of all people, and the honoring of basic civil and human rights for all people, including those of various gender identities." Now we are waiting all these Social Principles to be approved in the final week by the full General Conference plenary.

We are still praying that the following item is approved in this week:

- Removal of Exclusionary Policies in the UM Book of Discipline regarding the participation of gays and lesbians in UMC. It is very likely that we remove phrases like "the practice of homosexuality... is incompatible with Christian teaching" before the Conference ends on May 3rd.

In addition to affirming the basic human rights of all people, the revised Social Principles passed on April 27:

- Reject governmental use of threats, extortion, unlawful detentions, extrajudicial killings and other forms of coercion to silence political opponents.
- Speak out against slavery, torture, genocide and war crimes.
- Reaffirm the longtime opposition to the death penalty proclaimed by The United Methodist Church and its predecessors.
- Commit to fair and proportional sentencing and to the humane treatment of those who are imprisoned, while insisting on accountability.

Continued

- Support civil disobedience in protest of “unjust or immoral laws.”
- Deplore war and all other forms of violent conflict and support people who follow the nonviolent example of Jesus.
- Also support people who choose military service as a result of personal conviction and urge “that they perform their duties in harmony with the tenets of the Christian faith and in accordance with the laws of the Geneva Conventions.”
- Affirm health care as a basic human right.
- Call on church and society to support and advocate for the well-being of all children and young people.
- Support the rights of Indigenous, native and aboriginal communities.
- Affirm the dignity, worth and rights of migrants, immigrants, and refugees, including displaced and stateless people: “We oppose all laws and policies that attempt to criminalize, dehumanize, or punish displaced individuals and families based on their status as migrants, immigrants, or refugees,” the revised Social Principle says.

May the General Conference be a testament to the resilience of our diverse and vibrant tapestry of faith! Lord, help us!

“Rejoice always, pray without ceasing, and give thanks in all circumstances; for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus for you!” (1 Thessalonians 5:16-18)

Your Pastor, Hyesung Lee

** Christianity Today's 2018 Book of the Year Winner - Spiritual Formation

“In the overlooked moments and routines of our day, we can become aware of God's presence in surprising ways. How do we embrace the sacred in the ordinary and the ordinary in the sacred? Framed around one ordinary day, this book explores daily life through the lens of liturgy, small practices, and habits that form us. Each chapter looks at something—making the bed, brushing her teeth, losing her keys—that the author does every day. Drawing from the diversity of her life as a campus minister, Anglican priest, friend, wife, and mother, Tish Harrison Warren opens up a practical theology of the everyday. Each activity is related to a spiritual practice as well as an aspect of our Sunday worship. Come and discover the holiness of your every day.”

What Membership Means to Me

By Larry Schaffer

Membership counts for the future policy making of the United Methodist Church, (UMC) at all levels of church politics – Annual Conference (54 in the US), Jurisdictional Conference (5 in the US), and General Conference.

To be sure, ALL are welcome here at Brentwood Community United Methodist Church, (BCUMC). This includes all those as “Members” and those who desire to continue as non-members. To me, being a member is more than having an asterisk after my name in the Church Directory. More than being able to vote at our Annual Meeting.

To be a member of this church, or any church, is to make a public promise to live according to the Word and to fully support the work of the congregation. The Bible calls this agreement, a public promise, or covenant, and this is the basis for all society: marriage, employment, citizenship, church membership, friendship, etc., are all relationships of accountability.

Another benefit of church membership is having a say-so in shaping ministry. BCUMC members choose officers and guide the direction of our congregation. While congregational meetings are open to all, only members may vote to pass resolutions, and to make changes to BCUMC By-Laws.

I believe membership in BCUMC is a privilege. It is not required for participation in church activities, though it is a way for you to be involved as a contributor and not merely as an attendee. Membership does not mean you have to pledge, but as a member of the Finance Committee I encourage you to pledge. Membership does not mean your name has to appear on our Ministry Team & Structure as an employee, an officer, committee chair, or committee member.

But please do pray on joining our covenant family and becoming a member. New Member orientation classes occur often. I will attend; if you are not a church member, will you?

SUNDAY NIGHT LIVE

It was a heart-warming Sunday Night Live. 18 people gathered and had dinner together (Lasagna, Salads, fruits, etc. prepared by David Funk and pastor Lee). Then we made over 50 boxes of 'Blessing Box for the Unhoused' from hundreds of items that have been collected by the congregation over 3 months. There were lots of smiles and laughs while working together. Afterward each family took one or more boxes to give away to their unhoused-neighbors in need, We pray that our blessing boxes do deliver God's love to God's children.

Membership Moment by Polly Gallagher

When I first moved to Brentwood, I was a member of and attending the Methodist church in Livermore.... married there, children baptized there. I thought that I would keep attending, making the drive as needed. It did not take long for me to realize that attending a local church was key to becoming part of the community I was living in. After first signing the guest book in 1987, I became a member of BCUMC in 1988. For me, becoming a member was a commitment to the Brentwood community as well as the church community. Being a member meant making connections to families with young children, making Sunday School and our church nursery a priority. Over the years I also learned much about membership from long time BCUMC members who love this church and showed that love through their commitments of involvement. I have tried to model that involvement. Being a member also means my financial support; I choose to pledge and honor my commitment. This church and its members, past and present, are dear to me. I have kept all my past pictorial directories like little year books and go through them occasionally to reminisce!

GARDEN PARTY STORY

Over 15 people enjoyed a delightful Garden Party last Saturday, April 20th, at our beautiful Community Peace Garden. The delicious food, as always, hit the spot, and a relaxed and happy atmosphere filled the air.

A big thank you goes to our dedicated garden ministers, especially Cici and her friends! Their efforts were evident – the garden looked well cared for and clean. When I asked Cici her secret, she smiled and said, "High school kids!" Apparently, a group of about 10 volunteers come in weekly to lend a hand, earning community service credits while providing us with a valuable service.

The afternoon included a special prayer for Earth Day. We then enjoyed a community sing-along, accompanied by guitarist Dave Funk and ukulele player Pastor Lee. Our thoughts were with Joe Kick, who used to join us for these gatherings. While unable to attend due to chemotherapy, his wife Joy came by to share an update on his health. We're all sending him our prayers for strength and for a successful treatment and a complete recovery from cancer.

SCAM ALERT

Lay Leader News By Heidi Stark

This year is just flying by! The deadline for this newsletter is the 28th of each month and in March I just plain ran out of days and quite honestly, I just didn't feel like I had much to offer; so, I wrote nothing for the April issue. As I write this now, it is April 28th and again I'm running behind and feel like I'm running on empty. This year has had several rough spots, and the last couple of months have felt like one disaster after another – very stressful and exhausting. So, what can I share as I sit here at the end of another month with many of the issues/stresses in my life unresolved? What can I share? I can share HOPE!

For as long as I can remember, I have had faith. My faith has changed as I've aged. For many years, I had the faith of a child – innocent and basic. I am thankful for my parents, family, friends, and teachers who planted the seed of faith in me and allowed it to grow. Through study and experience my faith has grown. I am thankful to be part of a denomination who encourages all to question, love and serve. Through the years, I've come to understand that belief in God – having faith doesn't mean that nothing bad will ever happen. It means that through all the ups and downs of life God will be with me and never stop loving me.

Right now, in my life there is a lot going on personally and professionally that feels wildly out of control. I am generally a very organized person, and I appreciate a good plan. As a Christian, I am challenged to remember that God is in control. Right now, I don't have a good plan, and I can't do it all on my own. I am thankful that I can turn to God anywhere and anytime and ask for help. I am trying really hard to listen to where God is leading me. I am trying every day to be present to God/Jesus/Holy Spirit, and on many, many days I am amazed that my daily devotional will feel like it was written just for me. I know that God will equip me to handle whatever comes and I trust that God will be with me throughout the good times and the bad. Every day, I recite Psalms 118:24 This is the day that the Lord has made; let us rejoice and be glad in it. I do my best each day to count my blessings because there is always something to be thankful for. “Fairy tales in childhood are stepping stones throughout life, leading the way through trouble and trial. The value of fairy tales lies not in a brief literary escape from reality, but in the gift of hope that goodness truly is more powerful than evil and that even the darkest reality can lead to a Happily Ever After. Do not take that gift of hope lightly. It has the power to conquer despair in the midst of sorrow, to light the darkness in the valleys of life, to whisper “One more time” in the face of failure. Hope is what gives life to dreams, making the fairy tale the reality.” – L.R. Knost

BCUMC ADULT BIBLE STUDY FOR THE 2024 SPRING TRIMESTER

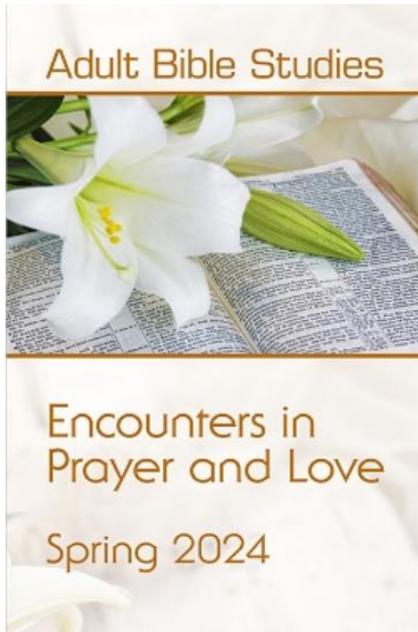

Our Adult Bible Study series continues this Spring 2024 with the theme

“Encounters in Prayer and Love”.

We announce Jesus’ Resurrection with Easter lilies, the sound of trumpets, and bright streaming light. After all, it is Christianity most significant event. Without Resurrection there is no Christian faith.

But Resurrection happened in a cave, it happened in complete silence, in absolute darkness .... New life starts in the dark. Whether it is a seed in the ground, a baby in the womb, or Jesus in the tomb, it starts in the dark. But, rather than a hopeless and void meaning, the darkness of Lent and Holy Week creates fertile ground for us, for it invites us more deeply into prayer and that, in turn, leads us into God’s presence.

Our lessons continue with the theme of prayer begun last quarter and allow us to listen in as Jesus, fully aware of what awaited him, prayed. He prayed for his disciples, for their safety and unity. He prayed for us, “for those who believe in [him] because of their word” (John 17:20). He prayed for himself. He prayed that God’s will would be done. As Jesus prayed, so can we. And when we do, we find new life in him. With that new life comes the indwelling Spirit of God, who empowers us to engage in our world in ways that announce the good news and work for justice, peace, reconciliation, and healing. The work of this empowering Spirit forms the foundation for the remaining lessons of our Adult Bible study series this quarter.

“I am the light of the world,” Jesus said. “Whoever follows me won’t walk in darkness but will have the light of life” (John 8:12).

What’s in it for me?

- by Karen Thomas, Finance Committee member

I’d be willing to bet that when you place your pledge or donation in the offering plate, or consider how much to give to our beloved church, you’re not asking yourself, “What’s in it for me?” However, it turns out that the answer to that question is, PLENTY! God created each of us in his image and, in his infinite wisdom, gifted us with an innate capacity to love, cooperate with, and care for one other. It turns out that when we give of our time, talents and treasure, we also care for ourselves. Here are two ways that giving to others is good for us:

1. It makes us happy! Research shows that giving money to others boosts happiness more than spending the same amount on ourselves. These results have also been validated by brain research that shows that when people give to charities, regions of the brain that are associated with pleasure, social connection, and trust are activated, giving the person a “helper’s high.”
2. It’s good for our health. A wide variety of studies have shown that giving to others has health benefits, even in people whose health is not that great to begin with. Those health benefits include a longer life expectancy and lower blood pressure. Researchers speculate that the social connection we gain by helping others leads to reduced stress, which then decreases our chances of developing serious illness.

Isn’t God amazing? He made us so that by helping others, we also help ourselves!

How does the Holy Spirit call YOU to care for this congregation and, in so doing, care for yourself?

THROUGH OUR MOTHERS

Through our mothers
Comes life
God's life of wisdom
Health, energy, love
Through our mothers' care
Comes God's care
And God's guidance too
That helps us know
What to do.

Through our mothers
Comes the amazing gift
Of God's enriching spirit
Helping us to be
A blessing to all we see.

Thanks, Mom,
For being there
From the start
Our love for you
Fills our hearts
We once were small
And now praise God
For it all!
