

To: Hon. Margaret H. Marshall
Harvard Law School
1563 Massachusetts Ave.
Cambridge, MA 02138

June 7, 2013

RE: The Costs of Falsely Claiming U.S. Freedom

Dear Ms. Marshall,

Pursuant to the enclosed flyer information and the patriotic comments you recently made on National Public Radio (NPR), we are not free in America. The "doublethink" dichotomy that you people hold in your minds and bodies, that "we are free," while knowing "we are not really free," is deteriorating the human genome. (And Our ensuing irresponsible behavior is also destroying the Earth's environment.)

Our youth observes adults' daily "acceptance" of the dichotomy.

By forcing youth to accept this dichotomy, we bring-on low performing schools w/ extraordinary dropouts rates, autism, attention deficit hyper-activity disorder (ADHD), attention deficit disorder (ADD), downs syndrome, suicide epidemic, Our psychotic youth & youth planning massacres, Etc. - We lack the self-awareness for understanding this pathology within us.

So, such corruption of the mind is not "free," Ms. Marshall, but is costing us everything.

Daniel Cobble

P.S. Prior to his death, Albert Einstein alluded to the above, that "We must start doing the right thing by people."